RECEIPTS:	Auctions	Direct	Video/Internet	Total
This Week	236,500	45,500	68,100	350,100
Last Week	219,300	51,900	43,200	314,400
Last Year	209,300	62,900	47,500	319,700

Compared to last week, feeder steers and heifers sold unevenly steady to 2.00 higher with continued good demand at the lofty price levels but some weakness was noted near the graze-out wheat region. Lightweight calf prices still showed no signs of weakening with weekly trends ranging firm to 5.00 higher with aggressive bidding for all classes of stockers with little regard for quality. Large shipments of graze-out wheat yearlings made their way to town this past week, with many falling in similar weight ranges and in fleshy (and almost juicy) conditions from lush pastures that were not used up but pulled off of to cash-in on the market. Receipts were much heavier than year ago figures in the Southern Plains where these cattle were marketed. These sales will be the last significant movement of yearling cattle until mid-summer when the double-stock pastures are emptied in the Flint Hills. Calf wells are also drying up from our reduced cow herd, but backgrounders are not yet ready to give up on acquiring grass calves. Buyers have strayed from their normal standards for kind and quality as they struggle to fill orders amid evaporating availability. Tolerance levels have been lowered to accept mismanaged calves possessing undesirable blood lines and odd colored hides. Discounts for these types have narrowed and they often sell within pennies per lb of the best consignments, likewise bulls and heifers are selling closer to steer prices than they did when calves were 30.00 cheaper. Trading levels in the salebarns have been very active as buyers squeeze every drop of value out of every lightweight offering, leaving some attendees wondering what a twenty dollar bill might bring if they auctioned it off. Beef markets have enjoyed a steep climb so far this year and feedlots have held the fed cattle market near 100.00 for several weeks. Their resistance is rigid on the bottom side as feedlot managers balk at returning to the 90.00's, but have been mostly content with the century mark. Nobody wants to rock the boat and ruin the prosperity and profitability of the current situation, although high-priced replacements are fast approaching and cattlemen are hoping to keep triple digits the norm. Global financial unrest continues to threaten our publicly traded markets and the heavy influence of investment funds in the CME cattle pits has the beef industry in a vulnerable state. However, rock solid supply/demand fundamentals have so far been strong enough to stave off a rapid sell-off of cattle futures. This week's reported auction volume included 48 percent over 600 lbs and 45 percent heifers.
